WELCOME MESSAGES

Dear colleagues and friends,

For the first time in its long history, the UIA will hold its annual congress in Istanbul.

Istanbul is a captivating city with a fascinating history. It is here that Roman civilisation and particularly Roman legal culture reached its zenith. The Corpus Juris Civilis of Emperor Justinian I is still one of the cornerstones of the world's legal culture. It was in this city that civil law, as we know it today, found its genesis. Similarly, common law also owes a great deal to Istanbul.

Istanbul was the capital of a multi-ethnic, multi-lingual and multi-cultural Empire with a remarkable religious freedom. In fact, for centuries Turks, Armenians, Kurds, Arabs, Persians, Greeks, Slavs, Venetians, people from all over Asia, as well as Muslims, Catholics, Orthodox Christians and Jews have all lived together in Istanbul.

Tolerance and co-existence of different cultures have always been a tradition and an asset for this city. It is for all these reasons that Istanbul is the ideal place to bring together the different legal cultures that are so characteristic of all UIA congresses.

For decades, Istanbul, and all of Turkey, has been torn between its Asian identity and its desire to be a full-fledged member of Europe. Both geographically and culturally, Istanbul forms a bridge between Europe and Asia, and is a melting pot between European and Oriental cultures. In 2010, Istanbul is the European Capital of Culture.

So there are many good reasons to join the UIA in Istanbul, not the least of which are the fascinating subjects that will be discussed.

During the discussion on Markets: A Return to Regulation?, we shall try to understand how, in the future, we can avoid repeating the terrible world crisis from which we are presently having such great difficulty in recovering.

In the theme Human Rights and Private Enterprise, we shall attempt to find out whether the respect for human rights in industrial and commercial activities still comes at a cost, whether it can prove to be a resource and whether judicial protection can be provided, even if these activities are conducted in countries whose laws are not in line with international conventions.

And what better place than Istanbul to finally try to see whether a single Worldwide Code of Ethics for lawyers can be established?

The UIA therefore looks forward to seeing all of you in Istanbul!

Corrado DE MARTINI
UIA President

Dear colleagues,

The 54th congress of the Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA - International Association of Lawyers) will be held in Istanbul between October 30 and November 3, 2010. On behalf of the Istanbul Bar Association, I would like to express the pleasure we take in hosting such a great event which unites the members of the world's legal profession.

The congress will be held in Istanbul, which holds a privileged position among the world metropolises in terms of its geographical location, natural beauty and history dating back to ancient times. Istanbul, which has long been the capital of empires, also holds a very remarkable place in the history of law. Corpus Juris Civilis, the foundation of laws, which had considerable effect on the development of Roman Law and influenced the whole of continental Europe, was compiled and practiced in this very city 1500 years ago. Along with its history, the young and dynamic population of the city provides a creative energy that makes Istanbul one of the most vibrant cities in the world.

The year 2010 will be crucial for Istanbul, since the city has been chosen as the European Capital of Culture by the European Parliament with the approval of the Council of Ministers of Culture of the European Union. The title "European Capital of Culture" is granted either to EU member countries or cities in EU candidate countries that contribute to Europe and add value to its culture. This contribution of the European Capitals of Culture also serves to enrich the culture of the world. Owing to all these aspects, Istanbul is becoming day by day a focal point and a centre of culture and art, not only for its own residents but also for the whole world.

As the Organizing Committee of the congress, we shall do our best to create the necessary conditions to allow you to express your opinions freely and get involved in sophisticated discussions. Excursions and social programs will also be organized to introduce our guests to the ancient and modern wonders of fabulous Istanbul.

The congress will be brought to reality with the support of the Istanbul Bar Association, which was founded in 1878 and is one of the biggest Bar Associations in the world with over 25,000 registered lawyers. We are thankful in particular to Mr. Muammer Aydin, President of the Istanbul Bar Association, for the close cooperation and the support he has provided us in organizing this congress.

We are more than pleased to take this opportunity to invite you to the 54th UIA congress in Istanbul, truly one of the wonders of the world.

We look forward to seeing you all in Istanbul!

Dr. Hakan ÖNCEL
President of the 54th congress

PRESENTATION OF THE UNION INTERNATIONALE DES AVOCATS (INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF LAWYERS)

UNION INTERNATIONALE DES AVOCATS: BRINGING TOGETHER THE WORLD'S LAWYERS

For over 80 years, the Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA - International Association of Lawyers) has been defending the legal profession and stimulating international contacts, cooperation and exchange of knowledge among lawyers, while respecting their cultural and professional diversity.

An association open to all law professionals, the UIA is the only large international association of lawyers to:

- ▶ Promote the fundamental principles of the legal profession and the development of legal sciences in all legal fields at the international level.
  - ▶ Contribute to the professional growth of its members through the exchange of information in forums established by its commissions and working groups.
  - ▶ Intervene frequently all over the world in favour of lawyers who have either been imprisoned or are being persecuted for practising their profession.
- Today, the UIA is bringing together several thousand members and hundreds of bars, federations and associations spread out in over 110 countries.

Join the UIA and become a member of the world's strongest lawyers' network.

■ LEGAL PROJECTS

The UIA commissions and working groups examine a host of legal fields falling under Business Law and General Practice and Human Rights.

Each commission looks at developments in its discipline and determines in which way they affect or are affected by other legal sectors. Consequently, all the UIA commissions collaborate with each other and, offer together several international training seminars every year.

At its annual congress, the UIA commissions hold their working sessions. They produce high quality reports that are placed at the disposal of all the association's members.

■ PROTECTION OF LAWYERS AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Wherever in the world the right to defence may be threatened, the UIA gets mobilised so as to provide assistance to lawyers who are unable to practice their profession freely.

In 2009, in particular, it followed cases in Cameroon, Malaysia, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Guatemala, Iran, Vietnam, Zimbabwe, etc.

Since 1971, it has enjoyed a special consultative status vis-à-vis the United Nations and the European Council.

Finally, the UIA attends the sessions of the Assembly of States Parties to the International Criminal Court and is a member of the International Criminal Bar's Executive Council.

■ TOURISM IN ISTANBUL

There are several facets to Istanbul. It is primarily a tourist city bursting with historical monuments, visited by thousands of tourists from the four corners of the world every year, but it is also a modern city with several business districts. In fact, Istanbul is a very lively city with an extraordinary night life.

■ ISTANBUL, A CITY OF CULTURE

Today, Istanbul is Turkey's main economic hub. It is also a city that fires your imagination, with its rich and unique past. The city's history goes back to the times of ancient Greece. Ever since, it has witnessed several civilisations one after another. The city once belonged to the Roman Empire and then the Byzantine Empire. In 1299, Osman I conquered the Byzantine city. This date marks the beginning of the Ottoman Empire, which chose Istanbul as its capital from 1453 onwards.

Istanbul is both a mirror of Turkey and culturally exceptional. All the area's provinces and trades rub shoulders with each other here. Two gigantic suspension bridges connect Asian Istanbul with European Istanbul.

An amphitheatre of history, every street in Istanbul has a story to tell. Build on seven hills overlooking the sea, it is an out-of-the-world maze of noisy little streets filled with frenzied activity.

■ TURKEY'S HISTORY AND CULTURE

Turkey is one of the only countries in the world that spans two continents. So far and yet so near, it is a promise of exotic new surroundings.

Its cultural diversity, multiple ethnic influences and cultural traditions have engendered a rich and varied folklore.

Turkey may be summed up by the clichés normally used to describe the Orient: someone nonchalantly smoking a hookah, bazaars spilling with carpets and perfumes, sparkling copperware and jewellery, the faithful being called to prayer from the minarets, whirling dervishes... However, that would mean neglecting another side of Turkey: secular and modern, vibrant and multicoloured, just like its hectic metropolis – Istanbul.

■ PRE AND POST-CONGRESS ACTIVITIES /

ACTIVITIES FOR ACCOMPANYING PERSONS

DESTINATION PLUS offers several pre and post-congress activities that will enable you to visit sites and monuments that are a must in Turkey, or to relax while enjoying all that this wonderful country has to offer.

During the closing ceremony, the Monique Raynaud-Contamine Award will be granted to the best report.

■ MONIQUE RAYNAUD-CONTAMINE AWARD

In 1999, the Union Internationale des Avocats established the Monique Raynaud-Contamine Award in memory of and as a tribute to Mrs. Monique Raynaud-Contamine, a former UIA Director of Legal Publications, and former President of the Banking Law Commission. Monique Raynaud-Contamine was a vitally important UIA member for several years.

The Monique Raynaud-Contamine Award was established in homage to her work and her personality and is granted to the authors of the two best legal reports drafted for the UIA annual congresses. One of the two awards will be conferred on a young lawyer. In addition, the two winners will receive a prize awarded by the legal publisher, Bruylant (Brussels).

Today's worldwide economic crisis, rooted mainly in a banking and financial crisis, has brought to light the limitations of our economic and financial systems and raised the issue not only of the need for greater regulation and control, but also for calling many aspects of our behaviour into question.

Two years after the 2008 crash, can we believe that States, legislators and financial authorities – national, European and international – have taken regulatory and control measures that promote a more balanced growth of our financial, economic and social environment?

INTERNATIONAL BAR LEADERS SENATE

Room 2 – Genève

Vice-President of the Senate:*Jean-Marie BURGUBURU (Gide Loyrette Nouel AARPI) Past President of the Paris Bar, Paris, FranceSecretary General of the Senate:*Huguette ANDRE-CORET, Soisy-sur-Seine, France

Formed in 1994 in Athens, the International Bar Leaders Senate, a consultative body of the Union Internationale des Avocats (UIA - International Association of Lawyers), will hold its 17th meeting in Istanbul. It organises discussions among UIA officers and bar leaders in order to enable them to compare their views of the legal profession, its fundamental principles, professional ethics and international developments in the practice of law.

In October 2009 in Seville, we tried the approach of a single international code of ethics for the legal profession based on our shared values.

We shall be meeting in Paris in June 2010 on the occasion of the Bicentenary celebrations of the re-establishment of the Bar, organised by the Paris Bar, at which we will be initiating a series of discussions on the subject of "Lawyers in today's world", examining the issue of Lawyers and Globalisation in the first part of the series.

At the Istanbul congress, following our discussions, we shall broach the second part of this subject, Lawyers and the Environment, against the background of the impact of new technologies.

Come and join us in large numbers on the occasion of this edition of the Senate!

As was the case in Seville, in Paris too, our speakers will be there to initiate the discussions but the floor will be yours.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 31, 2010 » 2:00 PM-5:30 PM » SWISSÔTEL THE BOSPHORUS

FORUM FOR AFRICA

Room 2 – Genève

President of the Forum:*Corrado DE MARTINI (Studio Legale De Martini) Rome, Italy

The UIA will be holding the second edition of its Forum for Africa in Istanbul.

Devoted to the specific challenges the profession faces on the African continent, this event will bring bar associations and lawyers together in their shared concern for finding solutions to issues fundamental to the profession, such as those broached during the last session: The role and independence of lawyers in Africa and The consequences of desertification on the continent.

The new edition will focus on a crucial and much debated subject, in continuation of the work carried out by the Forum last year:

"Strengths and weaknesses of the profession in Africa: What are the challenges to be faced?"

This analysis will enable us to identify the five priority challenges the profession faces in Africa and to develop methods to deal with them so as to offer African lawyers practical tools for practicing their profession.

The meeting will take the form of a forum for discussion and dialogue for our African members and participants. Those wishful of taking part and getting involved in this event are requested to contact the UIA.

SESSIONS	THEMES
Room 3 - Luzerne HEALTH LAW / INSURANCE LAW	► Medical liability and insurances <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Medical liability and insurance in Norway: A radical project and its results</li> <li>- Medical liability and insurance in Morocco</li> <li>- Medical liability and insurance in Cameroon</li> <li>- Medical liability and insurance in Japan</li> <li>- Mandatory health insurance</li> <li>- The situation in France: Compulsory insurance and extrajudicial settlement</li> <li>- Legal medical liability system under Romanian law</li> <li>- Changes in medical liability jurisprudence in France over the last 15 years</li> </ul>
Room 4 - Bern FAMILY LAW	► New tendencies in family law
Room 5 - Montreux INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION	► Oral advocacy and witness evidence A panel of distinguished arbitration practitioners will discuss the role of oral advocacy and witness evidence in an international arbitration, including how this differs from litigation before national courts. The session will include mock cross-examinations of fact and expert witnesses.
Room 6 - Lausanne CONTRACT LAW	► Civil law vs. Common law - What is best for drafting a contract This session will look at the perennial issue of which legal system is best when it comes to drafting a contract. Issues which will be considered include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Do civil law lawyers appreciate the importance of case law when it comes to contract drafting?</li> <li>- Should Common law lawyers seek to exclude the CISG if they do not understand it?</li> <li>- Does the standard severability clause expose clients to unanticipated risks?</li> <li>- To what extent will the courts intervene to make a contract for the parties?</li> </ul>
Room 7 - Mönch IMMIGRATION LAW AND NATIONALITY	► Immigration compliance initiatives across the globe Session organised jointly with the ABA-SIL (American Bar Association – Section of International Law). As business globalizes, immigration largely remains in the realm of national law. Differing national laws, regulations and procedures challenge small and medium-sized enterprises, law firms and multinational corporations desiring to send personnel on short-term or long-term international assignments. Additionally, national laws and procedures may change frequently and with no notice. Recently many governments, concerned about security and the protection of the domestic labour market, are emphasizing compliance. New legislation is being enacted to punish employers for violations of immigration laws. Some governments have adopted processes that shift the burden of administration to companies from governments. Enforcement is growing and takes the form of site inspections, a new willingness to turn away applicants at borders and the increasing use of audits. Immigration compliance is becoming more difficult as the consequences for non compliance become more serious for employers. Once of interest only to specialists and human resource managers, immigration compliance now should be considered by business and employment lawyers, corporate counsels and lawyers advising small and large companies and NGOs, who seek to move employees across borders. Please join us as lawyers from various jurisdictions to discuss obstacles to immigration compliance faced by companies and strategies that they can follow. Have we reached the limits of national regulation and is there a need for more regional or multinational agreements? What progress is being made in the global discussions on labor migration held under the auspices of the United Nations?
Room 8 - Mont Blanc BUSINESS AND HUMAN RIGHTS	► Sustainability and competitiveness: anticipating the future of CSR Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) has the potential to contribute to various common goals, such as social cohesion, economic competitiveness and a more rational use of natural resources. Lawyers have a particular interest in the links between CSR and competitiveness, that exist both at the micro-level of individual enterprises, and at the systemic level of sectors and regional/national economies. This session offers an analysis of how CSR can contribute to competitiveness, being integrated into business strategy and purpose in order to become an effective competitive differentiator.

MAIN THEME 2
A WORLDWIDE CODE OF ETHICS?

Room 1 – Neuchâtel

Co-ordinator:

Michel BENICHO, President of the European Bars Federation (FBE), Grenoble, France

Towards a single international code of ethics?

The financial crisis has taught us that the real value addition of lawyers lies in their moral rules of conduct – their code of ethics.

Indeed, unlike other professions, these rules protected us from getting tarnished by the crisis and taken to task by the media. Like the majority of the world's population, we too suffered the consequences of the crisis – one that was imposed and imagined by others.

The code of ethics – our moral code – is therefore the very core of our profession, whatever the country concerned is and, whatever the area of activity is.

But, in the face of the rise of globalisation – i.e. the supply and demand of products and services without limitations and across borders – we were unable to put forward and highlight these moral rules, which ensure that the legal profession cannot be mistaken for mere traders of legal services.

The reason that we have not been able to highlight the code of ethics – which protects clients and guarantees that they are dealing with a proper profession that stands by its duties to its clients and puts them before commercial gains – is because our code of ethics is divided, fragmented and limited to single countries, whereas the market is a global one today.

Markets know nothing of morals. They neither detest them, nor do they seek them. It is a world without morals that we have to deal with. And lawyers have to make up for it. To do so, we need to look for common points in our respective codes of ethics so as to draft a list and, together, adopt the fundamental moral principles that are at the heart of our work.

Finally, irrespective of the country, culture or religion, the same moral principles that founded Humanity can be found everywhere. Would we then be incapable of putting together our principles and coming up with a shared list – a truly international code of ethics – though we have the same yearning for justice, the same desire to advise and defend Humanity?

It would send out a strong image of the legal profession and strengthen the idea of a united profession that stands as a guarantee for the law and for the freedoms human beings enjoy.

That is the objective of the task to be addressed on this day, which should enable us to envisage and openly discuss our common principles as well as our differences, if any. Because differences also can make a valuable contribution and enable us to move forward.

I therefore invite you to take part in the Istanbul congress and follow the discussions on this subject.

SESSIONS	THEMES
Room 2 – Genève COMPETITION LAW / MERGERS AND ACQUISITIONS	► Acquiring regulated businesses: Mergers and acquisitions and competition law perspectives Acquisitions of regulated business, practical issues and solutions surrounding delays in regulatory authority/competition authority approval, warranties and indemnities and methods of acquiring. ► Specific antitrust and merger control issues - Admissibility of conduct of business clauses. - Condition precedent and allocation of risk amongst the parties in case of probable commitments because of merger control requirements. - Merger control proceedings in case of public bids/reconciliation of merger control law and take over law. - Specific questions of non-competitive clauses (for example whether they are admissible also in case of non-controlling interest, etc.) - Drafting contracts in regulated industries (role of regulator, for example energy or telecoms) in merger control proceedings (rights of intervention, right to be heard and information exchange between regulator and competition authority).
Room 3 – Luzerne MEDIATION AND CONFLICT PREVENTION / LABOUR LAW	► Employment disputes in Mediation Employment litigation can be very time and cost-consuming and there are many cases where both parties cannot be satisfied with the outcome. Unlike most other areas of business law, personal relationships between the parties play a significant role when it comes to strategic and legal decisions. The commissions will identify situations where mediation is an option to resolve employment legal disputes. They will also hold a moot court trial in order to prove that mediation does work in practice, i.e. that it can produce win-win situations.
Room 4 – Bern FOREIGN INVESTMENT	► Water as a commodity for foreign investment Water is more and more a commodity. Having in mind that this UIA congress shall be held in a Middle East country the subject of the commission working session will be "Water as a commodity for foreign investment". Among other topics we shall deal with: - Access to water market and investments limits in key infrastructures: Latin America, in particular Brazil; Africa, in particular Kenya and Asia, in particular India. - PPP (Public-Private Partnership) aspects, public tender procedures. - International instruments to regulate the water sector: London Protocol. - The French business model of the water market. - Turkish foreign investment experience in the water business.
Room 5 – Montreux HUMAN RIGHTS	► The rights of the arrested person The commission proposes to present the main rights of arrested persons, through a comparison of national legislations, in order to initiate exchanges with the participants on the following subjects: - Arbitrary arrest and the legality of arrests: The emphasis will be laid, in particular, on the issue of the disappearance of persons following their arrests by police or military authorities in certain countries. - The issue of the legality of arrests in the high seas, currently practiced off-shore in Somalia will also be envisaged. - Access to lawyers for arrested persons (depending on the countries – the time a lawyer intervenes, prerogatives, etc.). - Prevention of torture and inhuman and degrading treatment in the place where the arrested person is detained. - Conciliation of the presumption of innocence and an arrest. - Legal specificities of the arrest of prisoners of war, protected persons over 18, minors and illegal travellers.
Room 6 – Lausanne INTERNATIONAL ESTATE PLANNING	► Protection of assets: trust and fiduciary concepts - Consequences of property transfer for the creditors of the settler. - Examples for real estate and financial assets. - Taxation of property transfer. - Property transfer and "ordre public". - The lawyer as trustee or fiduciary.
Room 7 – Mönch INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY	► The impact of national laws on the international exploitation of intellectual property Speakers will explain an aspect of their national law that affects others wishing to exploit or protect their intellectual property when coming to that country. We will then review whether there are common themes that emerge based in commerce, culture or politics.
Room 8 – Mont Blanc JUDICIARY	► Megalitigation Many experts predict that a result of the world economic crisis will be the accelerated growth of "megalitigation" - complex (and often ruthless) proceedings involving huge claims of damages, vast documentation and multiple parties. The panel of judges, lawyers and academics will review recent "megalitigation" judgments and case management procedures under both the common law and civil code systems, with the emphasis being on practical advice, « traps for young players » and criminal law-related issues (e.g. allegations of fraud or destruction of documents) which often arise in this kind of litigation.
Room 9 – Monte Rosa LAW FIRMS FORUM	► Generational change: Handing and taking over First generation law firms find the handing-over process to the next generation difficult, both in terms of handing-over recurrent clients as well as in terms of the firm's management. This often leads to such firms dying-out, often due to the younger associates' uncertainties about their future. The problem is not only that of communication, but above all of the lack of advance preparation – i.e., getting ready to reduce one's own activities and accepting the gradual change-over to a younger management.

Room 2 - Genève TRANSPORT LAW	► The Rotterdam rules
Room 3 - Luzerne TAX LAW / SPORTS LAW	► Sport contracts and transfers: labour, tax and social security aspects Sports have experienced a serious evolution not only in technical and technological terms, but also on its legal implications. In what concerns to labor law, an answer is required on how to harmonize the general rules applicable on labor contracts with sports contracts and its specificities, notably when it comes to contracts entered into young practitioners. From a tax and social security perspective it is necessary to analyze the efficiency of the applicable rules on these matters taking into consideration the mobility of the sports practitioners.
Room 4 - Bern PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW	► Show me the money! International claims collection and enforcement of payment orders During this year's session we will study various issues regarding the cross-border collection of monetary claims. Fast and efficient recovery of outstanding debts is of great importance for economic operators in periods of economic turmoil. Late payments constitute a major reason for insolvency threatening the survival of businesses, and therefore many states are trying to tackle this issue by implementing new legislation.  Also on a transnational level, initiatives are taken to simplify the recognition and enforcement of foreign payment orders. The question is whether all these initiatives are indeed effective.  On the basis of the commission's traditional case study we will have an interactive discussion with the audience to compare and contrast the different regimes around the world, and discuss the best strategy to recover outstanding debts abroad.
Room 5 - Montreux HUMAN RIGHTS (continued)	► The rights of the arrested person The commission proposes to present the main rights of arrested persons, through a comparison of national legislations, in order to initiate exchanges with the participants on the following subjects: - Arbitrary arrest and the legality of arrests: The emphasis will be laid, in particular, on the issue of the disappearance of persons following their arrests by police or military authorities in certain countries. - The issue of the legality of arrests in the high seas, currently practiced off-shore in Somalia will also be envisaged. - Access to lawyers for arrested persons (depending on the countries – the time a lawyer intervenes, prerogatives, etc.) - Prevention of torture and inhuman and degrading treatment in the place where the arrested person is detained. - Conciliation of the presumption of innocence and an arrest. - Legal specificities of the arrest of prisoners of war, protected persons over 18, minors and illegal travellers.
Room 6 - Lausanne MEDIA LAW	► Political and economical powers and the control of social communication
Room 7 - Mönch ENVIRONMENT LAW AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT	► Climate change after Copenhagen The Kyoto Protocol regime is to end by 2012. The Copenhagen summit was expected to give as a result the "post Kyoto" regulation that would have guaranteed a coordinated worldwide action on the fight against climate change. However, the outcome of Copenhagen, the "Copenhagen Accord", has not met these expectations.  During the session, the new situation after the Copenhagen Accord will be discussed, taking into consideration that the next conference of the parties (COP 16) will be held in Mexico very soon thereafter. Issues such as the role of the developed and developing countries, as well as the mechanisms for a larger carbon market, will be discussed.
Room 8 - Mont Blanc REAL ESTATE LAW	► Real estate contract negotiations: The role of lawyers Introduction: Impact of the crisis: New methods, new contents. - Negotiation of contract signing. - Negotiation of contract execution.  - Negotiation of studies' contracts (architects, research and design firms, etc.). - Negotiation of urban development contracts. - Negotiation of corporate contracts.
Room 9 - Monte Rosa MANAGEMENT OF LAW FIRMS	► Partners' compensation How does partners' compensation work in law firms from different countries? This is a controversial and often tricky issue to address because most law firms have difficulties in defining the most appropriate and fair remuneration to each partner level. For these firms to have a high-level view of the current situation, joint efforts are required for an analysis of the guidelines prevailing in each country and firm. What can associate lawyers expect in terms of compensation as partners?

MAIN THEME 3 HUMAN RIGHTS AND PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

Room 1 – Neuchâtel

Companies are growing increasingly aware of their responsibilities vis-à-vis the respect of human rights and several of them have already instituted mechanisms enabling it to be taken into account. But what does respecting human rights really mean for a company? What risks does it run if it fails to respect them? What measures can or should it take, either internally, with reference to its staff, or externally, vis-à-vis its co-contracting parties? How can performance and ethical requirements be reconciled?

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 2010 » 2:00 PM-5:30 PM » SWISSÔTEL THE BOSPHORUS

SESSIONS	THEMES
Room 2 – Genève INTERNATIONAL SALE OF GOODS	► How to minimize the risks in contract for international sale? The UN Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG) based on the worldwide acceptance by lawyers raised with different traditions and backgrounds, unifying the basic concepts of sales law and adopting a balanced approach neutral in terms of economic policy, helps to remove legal barriers in international trade and to promote its development. In implementing the uniform rules of the CISG in practice, the parties should adapt it to the background and nature of each particular sales contract.	Under the title “How to minimize the risks in contract for international sale?”, the session will focus on the comparative analysis of the main practical problems relating to the performance of the contract for international sale with the aim to provide the optimal solutions to prevent them.
Room 3 – Luzerne PROTECTION OF LAWYERS	► Annual report and update on open cases ► Training on judicial observation and missions on protection of lawyers
Room 4 – Bern INTERNATIONAL NEGOTIATION FOR LAWYERS (continued)	► Negotiation role-playing simulation Two teams will be appointed, each one including 2 lawyers. The matter under discussion/negotiation during the simulation will concern a company distribution agreement or a licensing agreement concluded between a US company and a Turkish company.
Room 5 – Montreux LITIGATION	The section will be split into two parts: ► Presentation of spectacular cases Members of the commission will inform you of recent high profile decisions and will explain backgrounds and interesting aspects of the most spectacular cases in their home jurisdictions. ► The “destruction/spoliation of evidence” The destruction of evidence is a global issue. Documents, and in particular electronic records, are ubiquitous and mushrooming in volume. Law enforcement investigations in the world are likely to seek access to such records. To thwart an investigation, including litigation, an unscrupulous holder of records may want to destroy them.	Such an unlawful destruction of evidence is known as destruction “spoliation” or “obstruction of justice”. The programme will discuss how various jurisdictions deal with this issue.
Room 6 – Lausanne BANKRUPTCY LAW	► Deontology and ethics in the practice of bankruptcy Law
Room 7 – Mönch COMPUTER AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS LAW	► Cloud computing - How to cope with the legal challenges of new IT service models? Cloud computing is praised as being the dominant trend in the IT sector. Cloud computing refers to a new supplement, consumption and delivery model for IT services. Customers do no longer own the IT infrastructure, but rent usage and consume IT resources as a (standardized) service. Such models bring along particular legal challenges. Issues such as reliability, control, certainty, security, ubiquity and various other specific	topics need to be addressed differently or more specifically than in traditional settings. The session will explore the particular legal challenges of cloud computing and the same focus on the presentation, analysis and discussion of ways to address and solve them.
Room 8 – Mont Blanc TORT LAW	► Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) – Arbitration/mediation in Tort Disputes (Resolution of matters outside of formal court proceedings/trials) - A short introduction of ADR: Why can it be useful? What are the benefits and shortcomings? Why is it gaining in popularity? - A plaintiff's view - A defence view	- The emerging alternative of ADR as it is, as it is hoped for, as it may become in Switzerland. - The use of ADR in Italy. - Initiating ADR: Selection and powers of the hearing officer, confidentiality of the process and enforceability of the award. - The preparation, content and use of the ADR brief. - Conducting the hearing: Evidence, proof, objections and time efficiency.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

GALA DINNER – TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 2010

Çiragan Palace (Kempinski Hotel)

8:30 pm

The Çiragan Palace is an opulent structure built in the second half of the 16th century in one of the canal's most beautiful areas. The palace was home to several generations of Sultans who introduced a number of architectural novelties, but a fire partially destroyed the palace in 1909. Priceless paintings, carpets and books were lost for ever. Fortunately, one of the palace wings miraculously escaped the disaster.

This section of the ancient palace still boasts of its original stone structure, its marble, paintings and other relics of its age-old splendour. It will be a delightful venue for the congress gala dinner.

Transfers will be provided between the congress hotels and the Çiragan Palace. The shuttle schedule will be given in the final programme and will also be displayed in the congress hotels.

Dress code: Evening dress and dinner jacket or a dark suit.

The price, including transfers, welcome cocktail, dinner and dance is € 165 per person.

GENERAL EXCURSION – WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 2010

Commented cruise on the Bosphorus

9:30 am – 4:00 pm

Buses are scheduled to leave the congress hotel at 9:30 am to take you to the pier to board a private boat.

In the morning, you will spend 2 hours cruising on the Bosphorus, with a commentary that will help you explore from the waters of the Bosphorus strait, Istanbul's main architectural jewels.

The Bosphorus, which connects the Sea of Marmara to the Black Sea, has retained much of its charm with its fishing villages, its elegant Yalı (luxurious 19th century wooden residences), its mosques, its numerous bridges as well as the Palaces of the last Sultans.

You will take a break on the Asian side for lunch at the Del Mare Restaurant, a historical building on the banks of the Bosphorus, built in the 19th century and initially used as a storage depot, to be later converted into a factory in the early 20th century.

Early afternoon, you will board the boat again and continue the cruise. A second stopover will enable you to explore the Leander Tower, a structure built on the rocky islet of Üsküdar in the 19th century, to mark the entrance to the strait, which has now become the symbol of Istanbul and the Bosphorus.

A coffee break will be offered at the Leander Tower.

You will continue the last section of the boat cruise up to the entrance to the Golden Horn, a magnificent natural harbour that was once developed to establish the city of Byzantium. Today, it is a popular tourist attraction in Istanbul because of its history and beauty. You will disembark at the Eminönü port, located just before the Galata Bridge.

Return time to the Swissôtel The Bosphorus between 3:30 and 4:00 pm

After the excursion, you will be able to visit the city's largest mosque, the Süleymaniye Mosque, built for the greatest of the Sultans, Suleiman the Magnificent (additional charges apply).

The price of the excursion, including transportation by bus, the commented cruise, the visit of the Leander Tower (coffee and pastry included) and lunch (beverage included), is € 120 per person.

It was built in the year 203 by the Roman Emperor, Septimius Severus. Today, the Hippodrome harbours three monuments that should not be missed: the Obelisk of Theodosius 1st, the walled column and the serpentine column.

The 5th century St. Sophia church, a masterpiece of Byzantine architecture, signifying Church of Holy Wisdom, remained the largest Christian church until Constantinople's conquest in 1453.

The Sultan Ahmed Mosque or Blue Mosque (1617) is admittedly one of the most famous and beautiful mosques of Istanbul and the Muslim world in general.
